UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND
SCHOOL OF MUSIC GRADUATE PROGRAMS

The University of Maryland School of Music is a fully accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Graduate programs in music at the University of Maryland offer qualified students the opportunity (1) to achieve excellence in a music specialization of their choice, (2) to master the appropriate skills, knowledge and competencies required for a successful professional career in the chosen specialization, and (3) to develop a sound and broad musicianship that supports and complements that specialization. The flexible nature of our programs makes it possible to design and to complete degree programs that meet students’ needs and interests.

The faculty of the School of Music is a dedicated community of artist performers, scholars, and teachers. They have first of all committed their individual and combined creativity, scholarship, and instructional expertise to assist students in the accomplishment of program objectives and secondly, to contribute to a heightened musical and cultural environment for the University of Maryland, the State of Maryland, and the nation at large.

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Dear Graduate Student:

Welcome to the University of Maryland School of Music! We are very pleased that you have chosen to pursue your graduate studies with us. Please study this handbook carefully; it is your roadmap to success as a student here. Our faculty and staff are here to help and support you, but it is ultimately your responsibility to meet all requirements, policies, and deadlines related to your degree program.

This Handbook was revised and reprinted in August 2011. Further revisions to this handbook may be included at any time in the year, and the latest version can be found online at <http://www.music.umd.edu/current_students/handbooks>. If you are beginning your degree program in the Fall 2011 semester, this printed Handbook is in effect your contract with the University. If there are revisions to your degree program during your time here, you may opt for the new policies, or you may continue to follow the ones in place when you began your program.

When you have a question about how things work, you may want to start with Debbie Kuckuda, Graduate Services Coordinator, in the Student Services Office, room 2112; Craig Arnold, Assistant Director for Student Services, in the Main Office, room 2110; or your program Advisor or Division Chair. One of them may refer you to me; my office is room 3120.

I wish you a happy, productive, successful experience here as a graduate student!

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Gerald Fischbach
Director of Graduate Studies

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIP CONTINUOUS SERVICE
Assistantships are awarded based on the expectation of continuous service for the years specified in the award letter. If a graduate assistant takes a leave of absence, the remainder of the assistantship is forfeited.

APPLIED MUSIC FEE
An applied music fee of $400.00 per semester in addition to regular tuition is assessed for all registrations in the MUSP Principal and Major Series, and $200.00 per semester for the MUSP Minor Series.

ACCOMPANIST/ACCOMPANYING
If you need an accompanist (either for lessons or for a performance), you may check with your applied music teacher for a list of accompanists or check with Ted Guerrant, Accompanying Coordinator, at <tguerran@umd.edu> or (301) 405-0284. Accompanist’s fees, which average $40/hour, are the responsibility of the student.

RESERVING ROOMS AND HALLS
The use of any performance space (i.e. concert hall or recital hall) must be scheduled and approved by the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center’s Administrative Offices, located on the third floor above the Theatre Department Offices.

The use of any academic space, administrative space, rehearsal rooms or classrooms within the School of Music must be scheduled and approved by the School of Music Administrative Office. Class and rehearsal rooms will only be scheduled two weeks ahead for individual use and can only be reserved by music majors enrolled in the current semester. No student will be allowed to use their status as music major to reserve time for individuals or campus groups not affiliated with the School of Music.

RECITAL SCHEDULING
Students should make recital arrangements one semester in advance of their recital, including obtaining their teacher’s permission, processing all necessary paper work and scheduling all necessary space. To schedule a recital, you must make an appointment with the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center scheduler at (301) 405-1837 and obtain from the Center a Recital Policy Manual. Below are important highlights from that manual.

- Required degree recitals must be performed during either the fall or spring semesters and may not be performed during the summer or winter terms.
- All use of the Gildenhorn Hall will be scheduled a minimum of 3 weeks prior to the time of the requested use. Scheduling requests are made through the Scheduling Office of the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, Room 2604, (301) 405-1837.
- All recitals are held at the following times: 2:00pm, 5:30pm or 8:00pm in Gildenhorn Recital Hall.
- Recitalists may have access to the hall one hour prior to their recital. There is a half hour to set-up and warm-up. Recitalists will be cleared from the stage a half hour prior to the beginning of the performance. Doors open to the public 15 minutes prior to the performance. Recitalists must vacate the hall within fifteen minutes following the scheduled performance end time. All recitals shall be no more than one hour and fifteen minutes in length (including intermission). A recital may be longer than one hour and fifteen minutes only if the hall can still be fully vacated by the required time and a request has been made to the recital coordinator at least three weeks prior to the recital date and approved.

- A 1½ hour dress rehearsal slot must be scheduled at the same time the recital request is made. The Center cannot guarantee availability for dress rehearsals if a reservation is not made when the recital reservation is made. Designated rehearsal slots have been built into the Recital Hall schedules and only these times are available for rehearsal.
- All lecture recitals are held in the Lecture Hall, Room 2200. To schedule a lecture recital in the Lecture Hall, Room 2200, contact Richard Scerbo, School of Music Scheduling Coordinator, at <music-schedule@umd.edu>. (All scheduling of School of Music classrooms, practice rooms and rehearsal rooms should be scheduled through Richard Scerbo).
- To cancel or reschedule a recital, the recitalist must submit a Recital Change Request and Cancellation Form (available from the Scheduling Office, Room 2604) no less than 21 days prior to the event. If the notification is received less than 14 days prior or if a recitalist fails to show for his/her recital or if a recitalist arrives after the scheduled recital start time, the student will be billed a $100 late notification fee for services. If a recitalist fails to show for his/her dress rehearsal, a $50 late notification fee will be charged. This fee will be billed to the student through the University Bursar’s office. A student may cancel and reschedule a recital only one time per semester. A student who cancels a second time (in one semester) must wait until the following semester to reschedule.

Degree recitals may be recorded. Recording services are available through Antonino D’Urzo at (301) 779-5544 or opusrite@aol.com. Payment of recording fees is the responsibility of the student.

PRACTICE ROOMS

Practice rooms are located on the second and third floors and are on a “first-come-first-served” basis and are for students majoring in music. You may not attempt to reserve a practice room by leaving personal items in the practice room. Any practice room left unattended is considered available for the next student (even if personal items are left in the room). Practice rooms may not be used between the hours of 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. Food and beverages are strictly prohibited in all practice rooms.

BUILDING USE

Food and beverages are prohibited in any room containing a piano or sound equipment. Smoking is prohibited throughout the building. The building is open 7:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m. Security patrols will clear the building at 11:00 p.m. If you find that an entrance to the building is locked during normal open hours, your university identification card will act as a key card for entrance. Locked building entrance doors must not be propped open by any means, for any reason.

LOCKERS

At the beginning of each semester, you may have a locker in the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center assigned to you for that year. Locker assignments are made through the School of Music Administrative Office. A combination lock will be provided. It is recommended that you purchase a stronger lock with advance permission of the administrative offices. The size of your locker will depend on the size of the instrument you play. (Voice students are allowed to have a locker). Please DO NOT leave your instruments (or anything of value) in your lockers overnight, as break-ins and thefts do occasionally happen.
CHAPTER II: POLICIES FOR ALL GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY
It is the student’s responsibility to read and become familiar with all policies, requirements and deadlines of the University of Maryland Graduate School and all applicable School of Music requirements that govern the program of study. The requirements and policies of the School of Music are in addition to the requirements and policies of the University of Maryland Graduate School and do not supersede them. The Graduate School’s policies and deadlines can be found at <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/current/>.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
The School of Music is committed to excellence in the mentoring of musicians and considers academic material as vital as performance technique to making a consummate musician. To that end, the School of Music regards academic integrity with the utmost importance and expects its students to do the same. Unreported acts of dishonesty devalue the worth of the education for all students, and it is the School of Music’s hope that any student who is aware of dishonesty should feel compelled to report it.

Students are encouraged to read and be familiar with the codes of academic integrity found at <http://www.president.umd.edu/policies/docs/iii100a.pdf>. The following is excerpted from that section of the catalog:

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: any of the following acts, when committed by a student, shall constitute academic dishonesty:
(a) CHEATING: intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise.
(b) FABRICATION: intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.
(c) FACILITATING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another to violate any provision of this Code.
(d) PLAGIARISM: intentionally or knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as one’s own in any academic exercise.

All members of the University community—students, faculty, and staff—share the responsibility and authority to challenge and make known acts of apparent academic dishonesty.

The range of penalties for academic dishonesty, as fully described at the website above, includes expulsion from the University.

ADVISING
Advising is one of the most important elements in a student’s successful work towards a graduate degree. It is the student’s responsibility to consult with an Advisor on a regular basis for the entire period of studies in the School of Music. Should a student be unable to secure an Advisor, the Division Chair will appoint one. If the appointment cannot be accomplished on the divisional level, the matter should be reported to the Director of Graduate Studies.
The Advisor’s signature is necessary on all student communication with the School of Music as well as the University of Maryland Graduate Studies Office.

Students must be advised each semester and must have a completed registration form signed by the Advisor before registering for the next semester.

PLACEMENT EXAMINATIONS
The School of Music requires a diagnostic Placement Examination for all new incoming Master’s and Doctoral students, prior to matriculation. The results of the Placement Examination are used by Graduate Advisors to guide and assist students in planning programs of study and in preparing for the required Preliminary Examinations at the doctoral level.

The three-hour Placement Examination consists of two parts:
- Part I tests music theory knowledge with an emphasis on aural skills and dictation.
- Part II tests knowledge in music history (Medieval–Renaissance, 17th–18th centuries, 19th century, 20th–21st centuries) and Form & Analysis.

A student must demonstrate an appropriate competence in Part I and answer correctly at least 50% of the questions in each unit of Part II. Students who fail Part I are required to take MUSC 550 Theory Review. Please note that through 500-level courses carry graduate credit, they may not be used to satisfy degree requirements. Students who fail any portion of Part II History and Form Placement Examination may retake the test until all units are passed, or take a history period survey course or MUSC 450 Musical Form, as appropriate, passing each course with a grade of B-minus or better.

Students entering the Ethnomusicology program, instead of the above exam, are required to take a Placement Examination developed by the Ethnomusicology program.

Students majoring in instruments, piano, and musicology may be required to take an additional written examination in their individual areas of specialization. Students in musicology may also be required to take a foreign language test.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT
All graduate students must have a reasonable command of the English language. All foreign born students, even if educated in English language institutions, must pass the TOEFL test with a score of 575 or above on the paper based test (PBT) or 233 or above on the computer based test (CBT) (with a writing score of 4.0 or above) or a score of 100 and above on the internet based test (IBT) (with a writing score of 26 or above). It is the responsibility of the student to make sure that this language requirement is satisfied. Foreign-born students who have already completed a non-performance degree in the United States may have the TOEFL test waived. However, they may still also be required to take the Maryland English Institute (MEI) English Proficiency Test. International students being considered for teaching assistantships must also pass a verbal test administered by MEI and receive a certificate of competency. Students who fail this verbal test are not permitted to teach for the University, and are required to take and pass special remedial courses as recommended by MEI before they are permitted to teach. All MEI evaluations are conducted in early or mid-August of each year. For more detail regarding the TA English Test, see http://international.umd.edu/mei/572
FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT
The Musicology, Ethnomusicology and Voice/Opera divisions have established their own foreign language requirements. Please refer to each of those sections for those requirements.

RECORDS
Student records are kept in the School of Music Student Services Office, room 2112.

ARBITRATION
Questions or arbitration about policies should be directed first to the student’s Advisor. If there is no resolution at that level, the question should be directed then to the Division Chair of the student’s program, and then to the Director of Graduate Studies. Under rare circumstances, an exception to School of Music graduate requirements shall be acted on by the Director of Graduate Studies upon written recommendation from the student’s Advisor and the Division Chair.

MINIMUM GRADE FOR COURSES NEEDED FOR GRADUATION
Only courses completed with a grade of B-minus or better can be used to satisfy degree requirements.

DISMISSAL
In accordance with the dismissal policy of the University of Maryland Graduate School, a student is subject to dismissal if his/her GPA falls below 3.0 for three consecutive semesters (for details see the Graduate Catalog).

The School of Music has an additional dismissal policy applicable to performance students: Upon receiving a grade of “C” or lower in applied music, the student is placed on probation for the following semester. If a grade of “C” or lower is received at the subsequent jury, the student is dismissed.

CONTINUOUS REGISTRATION
All graduate students must register for courses and pay associated tuition and fees each semester (not including Summer and Winter sessions) until the degree is awarded. In special cases, limited-term waivers of tuition and fees may be granted. Students may apply for a Leave of Absence for Graduate Students for appropriate circumstances, such as childbearing, adoption, illness, and dependent care. Waiver requests should be made at least 30 days before the beginning of the semester or year for which the waiver is sought and must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies and by the Graduate School. Failure to maintain continuous registration is grounds for termination from the program.

Once Admitted to Candidacy, a doctoral student will automatically be registered every semester for 6 credits of MUSC or MUSP 899 Doctoral Dissertation Research and will be assessed a special flat Candidacy Tuition charge. MUSC/MUSP 899 is not available for variable credit. MUSP 899 carries an additional performance fee.

WRITTEN THESIS/DISSERTATION PREPARATION
Written Thesis/Dissertation Preparation Detailed instructions on preparing and submitting the manuscript of your thesis or dissertation can be found on the Graduate School’s website: <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/etd>.

APPLICATION FOR DIPLOMA
Students are responsible for completing an application for a diploma with the Office of Admission and Registration in the Graduate School during the first two weeks of the semester in which they intend to graduate. Failure to do so will result in delayed graduation. If for any reason the requirements for graduation are not met in that semester, the student’s application for a diploma is still valid for subsequent semesters within five years of admission.
CHAPTER III: POLICIES FOR ALL MASTER’S PROGRAMS

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS
The course of study undertaken for the Master of Music (M.M.) or Master of Arts (M.A.) degree will constitute a unified, coherent program that is approved by the student’s Advisor and the Director of Graduate Studies, and that meets Graduate School requirements. All M.M. Performance students are required to take a specialized pedagogy course to assure that they are prepared for a career that includes teaching. For detailed descriptions of coursework, including special requirements such as languages, see the individual program requirements in Chapters IV or V.

All Master’s students must:
• Earn a grade of B-minus or better in all courses used to fulfill degree requirements
• Complete the appropriate music research (bibliography) seminar:
  ° MUSC 648 Seminar in Music Research for M.M. in Composition, all M.M. in Performance degrees, M.A. in Music History and Literature, M.A. in Music Theory
  ° MUED 690 Research Methods in Music and Music Education for M.M. and M.A. in Music Education
  ° MUET 610 Research Methods, Bibliography, and Guided Writings (when available, otherwise MUSC 648) for M.A. in Ethnomusicology

• Complete Final Project (recital or concert, composition, thesis, etc., as specified by the student’s degree program). The student’s Advisor will chair a three-member committee. In consultation with the student, the Advisor selects two other faculty members for the committee, usually from the same division of the student’s area of specialization.

• Pass the Oral Comprehensive Examination or Defense of Thesis (check with your division for specifics)

Upon successful completion of the Final Project, all coursework, and other requirements, the Advisor and the Director of Graduate Studies in Music certify to the Graduate School that all requirements for the degree have been successfully completed.

COURSE OF STUDY
The course of study consists of a minimum of 30–36 credits (depending on the specific program) in courses approved for graduate credit, at least 18 of which must be 600-level or above. The credits are divided among three groups:

- MAJOR STUDIES
- STUDIES IN AREAS SUPPORTING THE MAJOR
- ACADEMIC COURSES IN MUSIC (M.A.-programs OTHER COURSES IN MUSIC)

See individual program requirements in the following two chapters for specific credit distribution and course requirements within each group.

TIME LIMITS
All requirements for the Master’s degree must be completed within a five-year period. Transfer credits must be no more than seven years old at the time of graduation. Time taken for an approved Leave of Absence for Childbearing, Adoption, Illness or Dependent Care does not count toward this five-year limit.

TRANSFER OF CREDITS
A maximum of six semester credit hours of graduate level work may be transferred from other accredited U.S. institutions to apply towards the requirements of the Master’s degree with the approval of the advisor, Director of Graduate Studies, and the Graduate School. Credits from foreign universities (including Canada) are not acceptable for transfer. Any student requesting acceptance of transfer credits should submit the necessary academic transcripts and the certified approval of the School of Music to the Graduate School as early as possible for review and decision-making. All credits offered for transfer must meet the following criteria:

- They must have received graduate credit at the U.S. institutions where earned.
- They must not have been used to meet the requirements for a degree previously earned.
- Transfer credits must be no more than seven years old at the time of graduation.
- The School of Music must certify that the courses are appropriate to the student’s degree program.
- The Director of Graduate Studies and the advisor must indicate to the Dean of the Graduate School that the course work taken has been revalidated by the student’s demonstration that the knowledge contained in the course(s) remains current. Each course for which revalidation is requested must be justified separately. Revalidation may be achieved by various procedures, including a) passing an examination specifically on the materials covered in the course, b) passing a more advanced course in the same subject area, c) passing a comprehensive examination in which the student demonstrates substantial knowledge of the content of the course, d) teaching a comparable course, e) publishing scholarly research demonstrating substantial knowledge of the content and fundamental principles of the course.
- The student must have earned a grade of B-minus or better in all courses presented for transfer credit.
- Transfer credit satisfies only 400 level requirements for the Master’s degree and does not apply to the upper-level (e.g. 600-level) degree requirements.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION
A student seeking a Master’s degree may obtain graduate Credit by Examination in certain 400-level courses. Credit by Examination is not generally available for courses at the 600, 700, and 800 levels.

WRITTEN DIVISIONAL QUALIFYING EXAMINATIONS
Upon completion of coursework, all M.A. students and M.M. Composition majors must pass Written Divisional Qualifying Examinations. These examinations must be successfully completed before beginning work on the thesis or Final Project. The Examinations are scheduled in the Fall and Spring semesters and in Summer Session II. A student must be registered for a minimum of one credit during the semester in which the Examinations are taken (except during Summer Session II). An application to take the Examinations must be approved by the student’s Advisor. A student may take the Examinations two times and, by petition, may receive special permission to take the Examinations a third time. Under no circumstances may a student attempt the Examinations more than three times.

WRITTEN EXAMINATION RE-EVALUATION POLICY
A student who fails the Written Divisional Qualifying Examinations with two grades of “Fail” and one of “Pass” may request a re-evaluation. A student request for re-evaluation of a failed Examination will not be considered if all three readers have returned a “Fail” grade. The Director of Graduate Studies has the right to accept or reject the request to re-evaluate. If rejected, the student has the right to appeal to the School of Music Graduate Committee.

ORAL DIVISIONAL QUALIFYING EXAMINATION
An Oral Divisional Qualifying Examination is required for all Master’s degree students. A student must be registered for a minimum of 1 credit during the semester in which the Oral Examination is taken. M.M. students are referred to their degree program listing in Chapter IV or to their Division Chair for further information.
For M.A. students, the Oral Examination is the Defense of Thesis. The student’s Advisor chairs a three-member committee; at least two members of the committee must be Full Members of the Graduate Faculty. In consultation with the student, the Advisor selects two other faculty members for the committee, usually from the student’s division. The committee’s decision to accept the Oral Defense of Thesis must be unanimous, and the committee report, signed by each member and the Director of Graduate Studies, is forwarded to the Graduate School immediately following the Defense. A student may Defend the Thesis no more than two times.

M.A. THESIS PREPARATION
Written Thesis/Dissertation Preparation Detailed instructions on preparing and submitting the manuscript of your thesis or dissertation can be found on the Graduate School’s website: <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/etd>.

JURY EXAMINATIONS

Students taking performance course MUSP 619 must perform a jury at the end of any semester in which no approved substitute performance is given. At least one of these, usually the May jury of the first year, will be a 20-minute program. No jury is required in the semester in which the degree recital is given.

NOON RECITAL POLICIES

All MM string students are required to attend the String Division Noon Recitals held on Tuesdays from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. Normally, eight Noon Recitals take place each semester, of which students are required to attend a minimum of six. Attending fewer than the minimum results in the MUSP grade being lowered one third of a letter for each recital missed. When schedule conflicts prevent a student from meeting these requirements, he/she can arrange with the divisional Noon Recital Coordinator to attend substitute events.

Students are encouraged to perform both solo and chamber music repertoire on Noon Recitals each semester. The Noon Recital event schedule is posted on the String Division bulletin board, located between room 3115 and 3117, Clarice Smith Center. If a student wishes to schedule a performance, he/she must submit a properly completed form, signed by his/her teacher, to the divisional Noon Recital Coordinator. The String Division bulletin board has folders for dispensing blank forms and receiving completed forms.
RECITAL AND ORAL EXAMINATION POLICIES

I. Preliminaries
   A. The recital program and proposed date must be submitted to the Chair of the String Division for approval at least two months before the recital date.
   B. Normal length for a full recital program is 60 to 65 minutes of music. A proposed program may be rejected because of inappropriate length.
   C. The recital must be scheduled at a time when the student’s teacher is able to attend.
   D. The student must arrange to have the recital recorded by an approved CSPAC recording technician.
   E. Students must procure the agreement of one other faculty member to attend the recital. This faculty member, plus the student’s teacher, together comprise the student’s Recital Committee.

II. The Recital Hearing and Oral Examination
   A. The Division Chair will schedule a hearing and an oral examination to occur no later than two weeks prior to the proposed recital date.
   B. At least two String Division faculty members must be present including the candidate’s private teacher (adjunct teachers’ schedules permitting).
   C. The recital hearing will involve playing selections requested by the faculty from the recital program with proper accompaniment as required.
   D. The oral examination will involve the candidate answering questions posed to them by the faculty focusing on the literature presented for their Master of Music degree recital. These questions will be comprehensive in nature covering not only the specifics of the literature and its historical context but also any related pedagogical issues.
   E. The entire recital hearing and oral examination procedure will be 30 minutes in duration.

III. The Recital Grade
Immediately after the recital, each Recital Committee member will grade the recital, using the standard University of Maryland A–F grading system. The grade for the recital, which is also the grade for the semester, will be the weighted average of the two grades, with the teacher’s grade counting for 60%, and the other Recital Committee member’s grade counting for 40%. The other Recital Committee member will also fill out a standard semester performance evaluation form to be placed in the student’s file.

M.A. IN ETHNOMUSICOLOGY

(Please also refer to Chapters II & III for general policies regarding all Master’s degrees.)

This degree is intended to provide a solid basis in the fundamental theories and methods of ethnomusicology for students conducting research in any culture area. The required coursework covers historical and contemporary scholarship, training in fieldwork including a hands-on research project (typically conducted in the Washington-Baltimore area), and the anthropology of music. Other courses may be chosen from a variety of seminars on specialized topics.

The M.A. degree in Ethnomusicology requires a minimum of 35 graduate credits, including the 6-credit Final Project. In the M.A. Qualifying Examination, students must demonstrate their familiarity with the fundamental theories and issues of ethnomusicology, including the discipline’s history, trends, and the ideas and work of major scholars in the field. Specific questions tailored to the research interests of individual students are designed to demonstrate their familiarity with the issues and literature related to their primary area of interest, as well as their preparation for conducting scholarly research suitable for a Master’s Thesis. (See Chapter III for more information about this exam.)

One language other than the student’s native language is required. The language required will be determined by the student and their Advisor with reference to the student’s research topic. To pass the language requirement, students must take four semesters at the college level or demonstrate their proficiency by passing an examination. Except in special circumstances, the language requirement must be passed in the semester before taking the Qualifying Examination. If the student fails to pass the language examination three times, s/he will be dismissed from the ethnomusicology program and any financial aid will be terminated.

All students must be involved in one of the School of Music's "world music ensembles" or an equivalent performance activity, selected in consultation with the Advisor, for four semesters (at least two semesters taken for credit). During their period of study, students should study at least two different performance ensemble types.

In some cases, students may be required to take remedial courses in Western music theory and/or history, which will not be counted as part of the 35 required credits.

There are two options for the Final Project: Thesis Option and Non-Thesis Option. (Students intending to continue for a Ph.D. in ethnomusicology or another academic field should choose the Thesis Option.) The Thesis Option requires a document of extensive length and substance that makes an original contribution to the field. It is subject to the Graduate School Thesis and Dissertation Guidelines, which can be found online at http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/current_students/electronic_thesis_and_dissertations_at_um.html.

Those choosing the Non-Thesis Option must submit two scholarly papers (on contrasting topics), written for courses taken while enrolled in the UMCP Ethnomusicology program, which are consistent with the requirements of refereed journals in the field of Ethnomusicology. At least one of the faculty members to whom the research papers were originally presented must be one of the examiners for the papers. In place of thesis research, students must take two seminars, chosen in consultation with their Advisor, in Ethnomusicology, Musicology, or other disciplines.

An Oral Divisional Qualifying Examination (Defense of the Thesis or Scholarly Papers) is required following completion of the Project; see Chapter III for details. Students choosing the Thesis Option must be enrolled for thesis credit (MUSC 799) during the semester of the defense.

CHAPTER VI: POLICIES FOR ALL DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

OVERVIEW
The Doctor of Musical Arts is designed as an applied degree, and the Doctor of Philosophy as an academic degree. The doctoral programs provide training that prepares graduates to function professionally at the highest level as soloist and ensemble performers, conductors and research scholars, and to teach on graduate and undergraduate levels at the finest universities in the United States and abroad.

Here is the general roadmap for the doctoral degree student: the first two to three years are spent fulfilling course requirements for the particular degree program. Upon completion of all course requirements, or at the earliest during the final semester of required coursework, the student takes the Preliminary ("Comprehensive") Examinations. After passing the Exams, the student applies for Admission to Candidacy, and officially becomes a candidate for the degree. The last major phase of the degree program then begins: the Dissertation Project followed by the Oral Defense of the Dissertation. From beginning to end, the normal time for completion of the degree is three to five years of work beyond the Master’s degree, depending on the specific degree program (see Chapters VII–VIII for further details). Benchmarks for measuring satisfactory progress, as well as maximum time limits, are described below.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS
The admission of all graduate students is continued at the discretion of the Graduate Director of the School of Music and the Dean of the Graduate School, consistent with the policies and practices of the Graduate School and graduate program. A student must make satisfactory progress in meeting programmatic requirements, must demonstrate the ability to succeed in his or her course of studies or research, and must attain performance minima specified by the graduate program in all or in particular courses; otherwise his or her enrollment will be terminated. Determinations of satisfactory progress occur at the graduate program level.

Among the measures of “satisfactory progress” is the set of timeline benchmarks as defined by each doctoral degree program (see below).

TIME LIMITS
Graduate School policy sets a maximum time limit for completion of “the entire program for the doctoral degree, including the dissertation and final examination, during a four-year period after admission to candidacy, but no later than nine years after admission to the doctoral program. Students must be advanced to candidacy within five years of admission to the doctoral program…. Admission to the degree program terminates if the requirements are not completed in the time specified.” (For complete information, including the procedure for extensions of time limits, see the Graduate Catalog.)

However, the D.M.A. and Ph.D. programs of the School of Music have set benchmarks for completion of various steps that are tailored to the expectations of the program. A student who falls behind the pace as defined by these benchmarks may be declared lacking in satisfactory progress, and risks being terminated from the program.
BENCHMARKS FOR SATISFACTORY PROGRESS
Following are the Benchmarks for Satisfactory Progress established for each doctoral program:

D.M.A.
Complete required pre-Candidacy coursework: Semester 4
Pass Preliminary Exams, Advance to Candidacy: Semester 5
Complete and Defend Dissertation Project: Semester 8
A motivated, well-qualified D.M.A. student can complete the degree in 3 years.

Ph.D.
Complete required pre-Candidacy coursework: semester 4
Pass Preliminary Exams, Advance to Candidacy: Semester 6
Complete and Defend Dissertation Proposal: Semester 6
Complete and Defend Dissertation: Semester 12

(Some field study and research projects may require longer Benchmark timelines, particularly in Ethnomusicology. Such exceptions are made with the approval of the Advisor and the Director of Graduate Studies.)

TRANSFER OF CREDITS
No credits earned in other institutions may be transferred to the Doctoral Programs at the UMCP School of Music.

WAIVER OF COURSE REQUIREMENTS
The Director of Graduate Studies in Music has the sole authority to grant waivers of course requirements.

MINIMUM GRADE FOR COURSES NEEDED FOR GRADUATION
Only courses completed with a grade of B-minus or better can be used to satisfy degree requirements.

WAIVER OF SEMINAR IN MUSIC RESEARCH (MUSC 648)
Waiver of course requirements of MUSC 648 on Doctoral level will be considered by the Office of the Director of Graduate Studies according to the following policy:

1. If this course was taken at UMCP as a part of a student’s Master’s degree program during the last five years, the requirement is automatically waived.
2. If this course was taken at UMCP more than five years ago, a student must present a request with a letter from the current instructor or the Musicology Division Chair stating that the content of the course was similar to the one offered at present. The student’s advisor and Division Chair must sign the request.
3. If an equivalent course was taken at another institution, the student must submit to the Director of Graduate Studies a request signed by the student’s Advisor and Division Chair with an official transcript from the other institution and description or official syllabus of the course. If documentation submitted by the student shows that the course is sufficiently similar to the one at UMCP and was taken within the last five years, the requirement may be waived.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS
Several doctoral programs have foreign language requirements; see the individual programs in Chapters VII and VIII for details.
ENSEMBLE, PIANO PROFICIENCY, VOCAL SKILLS REQUIREMENTS

Some D.M.A. programs have ensemble requirements and piano and/or voice proficiency requirements over and above the standard course requirements. See the individual programs in Chapter VII for details.

D.M.A. SCHOLARLY RESEARCH PAPER REQUIREMENT

Two major Scholarly Research Papers are required of D.M.A. students who will opt for the Performance Dissertation Option. These papers will demonstrate a command of scholarship and writing ability. The papers support the performance curriculum. One is prepared prior to Admission to Candidacy and the other afterwards, as a component of the D.M.A. Performance Dissertation Project:

A. In support of the Lecture Recital requirement, a scholarly paper of 12–16 pages of double-spaced text (Times New Roman 12 pt. font or comparable) will be required. Some or all of this document may provide the text for the lecture portion of this recital requirement.

B. In support of the Performance Dissertation Project sequence, scholarly program notes will be required for each of the recitals or other performance events, which collectively should comprise 13–17 pages of double-spaced text (Times New Roman 12 pt. font or comparable). In addition to treating the individual works performed, the notes for the Dissertation events are expected to discuss the works of the series in relation to one another where applicable. The versions presented at the public performance need not include the required footnotes as stipulated in the writing guidelines document referenced below. This paper is the written component of the Performance Project Dissertation.

Both of these documents must follow the guidelines set forth in the D.M.A Scholarly Research Paper Guidelines. In total, the written requirements associated with the D.M.A. Scholarly Research Paper Requirement shall include the following: Lecture Recital Scholarly Paper or sanctioned alternative option (see next paragraph); Dissertation Prospectus; Dissertation Performances Program Notes with Bibliography; Program Repertoire; Dissertation Abstract. The paper described in A. above, at the discretion of the student and advisor, may be included as part of the written portion of the Performance Project Dissertation submitted to the Graduate School.

At the recommendation of the student’s advisor, instead of the paper in support of the Lecture Recital, the student may submit a paper of similar length in support of one or both pre-Candidacy recitals or other performance events (concerto performance, major opera role, etc.).

D.M.A. SCHOLARLY RESEARCH PAPER GUIDELINES

All components of the D.M.A. Scholarly Research Paper Requirement must demonstrate a command of scholarship and writing. Each Scholarly Research Paper overall is a work of greater substance than a paper submitted for a seminar or a course, but it may be developed from a course paper. A prerequisite for beginning the paper is a grade of B-minus or higher in MUSC 648 or an equivalent course from another university. The Scholarly Research Paper must meet the requirements as outlined in the D.M.A. Scholarly Research Paper Certification Form.

Each paper must adhere to the following:

• A Scholarly Paper usually includes the following components: a title page, preface, dedication, table of contents, list of musical examples, list of illustrations, proper pagination, introductory paragraph explaining the topic, clear thesis statement, body of the paper in which paragraphs present the evidence supporting the thesis, at least one paragraph of conclusions, footnotes, an annotated bibliography of Works Consulted, an abstract of 250 words or less (dissertation paper only), and optional supplementary material (musical examples, appendices).

• The paper is a formal document without colloquial language or jargon.

• The paper demonstrates considerable depth of knowledge in some aspect of music, such as a composer, genre or historical period, or an aspect of theory, performance practice, compositional style, or the pedagogy of music.

• Tertiary sources (i.e. publications lacking footnotes or endnotes, and virtually all sources that exist only as web pages) — with the exception of Grove, MGG, and scholarly critical editions of music — should not appear in the footnotes or annotated bibliography.

• Quotations may be used only if their content provides supporting evidence for a claim made in the paper. Quotes that are more than a paragraph long must be placed in an appendix at the end of the paper.

• Clear, grammatically correct, correctly-spelled, and well-organized English prose.

• Complete, accurate, stylistically consistent citations in the footnotes or endnotes and in the annotated bibliography.

• Correct capitalization of titles in English and in foreign languages: normally, in English either all significant words or only proper names (be consistent!); in German only nouns, in French and Italian only proper names; in Latin only the first word of the title.

• Include an annotated bibliography (Works Consulted), meeting the requirements described in Turabian.

• The annotated bibliography includes a variety of source-types, not just books, and gives preference to recent sources. Most new scholarship is published first in articles. If sound recordings are used for the project, they should appear in the Bibliography under a separate heading. Do not provide web links for any item existing in hardcopy (i.e. articles in JSTOR).

• For the Dissertation Project paper, a 250-word abstract summarizing the thesis and supporting evidence presented in the paper, using the abstract format in the Journal of the American Musicological Society (and not RILM) as a model.

• Stylesheet: Chicago/Turabian Notes System. (DO NOT use the in-text parenthetical author-date option.) The Chicago-Style Citation Quick Guide can be found at http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html The essentially identical Turabian Quick Guide is at http://www.press.uchicago.edu/books/turabian/turabian_citationguide.html

• Students must submit both printed and digital versions of the paper.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATIONS (COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS)

1. Written Preliminary Examinations are required of all doctoral students prior to Admission to Candidacy. The Examinations may be taken in or immediately following the final semester of coursework, but not before. The student and the Advisor determine the appropriate semester in which to take the Examinations. The Advisor and the Director of Graduate Studies in Music must approve the Application for Examination.

2. The Examinations are scheduled three times a year, on a consecutive Friday and Saturday in November, March, and August, and the scheduled dates are announced well in advance. The student must apply for the Examinations at least four weeks in advance and must be registered for a minimum of one credit during the semester in which the Examinations are taken (except during Summer Session II).

3. Designed to assess the student’s mastery of the broad field of music as well as the area of the student’s specialization, the Preliminary Examinations consist of two parts: Departmental (School of Music) and Divisional. The Departmental part is prepared and periodically reviewed by the School of Music faculty as a whole or by authorized representatives. The Divisional part is prepared and periodically reviewed by the faculty in the student’s division. (Students in Ethnomusicology take only the Preliminary Examinations designed for that program. For further information, see Ph.D. in Ethnomusicology, Chapter VIII.)

4. For a Departmental Exam Study Repertoire List, see the end of this chapter.

5. The first time the Examinations are taken, the student is required to take both the Departmental and the Divisional parts of the Examinations AT THE SAME SITTING. Under no circumstances will a student be allowed to take only one portion of the Preliminary Examinations as a first-time test taker.

6. Each part of the Examinations is evaluated by a committee of three faculty members. The readers of the Departmental part are selected by the Director of Graduate Studies; those of the Divisional part are selected by the student’s Division Chair. The anonymity of both the students and the readers is maintained during the grading process.

7. Faculty readers are provided with a photocopy of each student’s Examination, and a cover sheet. On the cover sheet, the faculty reader indicates a grade of Pass or Fail, and in addition may provide brief comments, especially in the case of a grade of Fail. The reader does not write comments or other markings on the copy of the student’s Examination. The reader returns all papers and the graded and signed cover sheet to the Student Services Office within one month of the Examinations.

8. The majority opinion of the three readers constitutes a decision.

9. The Student Services Office assembles the evaluations of both parts of the Examinations and immediately forwards the decision to the Advisor of each student and the Director of Graduate Studies in Music who then notifies the student in writing of the results.

10. A student who fails one or both parts of the Examinations with two grades of Fail and one of Pass may request a re-evaluation. A student request for re-evaluation of a failed Examination will not be considered if all three readers have returned a Fail grade. The Graduate Director has the right to accept or reject the request to re-evaluate an Examination with a mixed verdict. If rejected, the student has the right to appeal to the School of Music Graduate Committee.

11. If the readers’ evaluation is Fail, the student’s Advisor may request a meeting with the committee of faculty readers and the Director of Graduate Studies. The student does not attend. Such a meeting is scheduled only if the Advisor feels that it might provide guidance for the student in preparing for subsequent testing. At the meeting, the student’s identity may be revealed, and any information or circumstances relevant to the student, the overall academic program, and the Examinations themselves may be discussed. In a subsequent meeting with the student, the Advisor will share with the student a summary of the discussion insofar as the Advisor thinks it will be useful to the student in retaking the Examinations.

12. A student may take the Examinations two times. A student may, by petition, receive special permission to take the Examinations a third time. Under no circumstances may a student attempt the Examinations more than three times.

13. If a student fails for the third and final time, the Director of Graduate Studies calls a meeting with the student’s Advisor and the three readers, and the readers make a final decision to Pass or Fail the Examination. The written decision is forwarded to the Student Services Office, and the Director of Graduate Studies notifies the student in writing of that decision.

14. With the exception of a single printed English-foreign language dictionary, the use of dictionaries or study aids is not permitted during the Examinations.

15. A student with a documented medical problem may, with the permission of the Director of Graduate Studies, use a computer. Permission to use a computer must be secured at least two weeks in advance of the Examinations. The computer will be provided by the School of Music; a student may not use his/her own computer.

16. All Preliminary Examinations are filed in the student’s file with the Music Office. A student may review faculty comments in the Music Office upon request. Under no circumstances, however, may any papers be removed from the Music Office.

ADMISSION TO CANDIDACY
After a student passes both parts of the Preliminary Examinations, and has completed all other requirements including coursework, languages (when applicable) and other competencies and requirements specified by the student’s program, (s)he is eligible for Admission to Candidacy. A student is responsible for filing an application for Admission to Candidacy. Upon approval of the application by the Advisor and the Director of Graduate Studies in Music, the application is forwarded to the Graduate School for its consideration and official action. A student must be admitted to Candidacy for the doctoral degree within five years after initiation of the program and at least six months before the degree is conferred.

DOCTORAL DISSERTATION COMMITTEE
Upon advancement to Candidacy, the student proceeds with the formal approval of the Doctoral Dissertation Committee. The Committee is formed with the consent of the student, the Dissertation Committee Chair, and each individual prospective committee member.

1. The Doctoral Dissertation Committee must have at least five members: the Dissertation Committee Chair, the Graduate School Dean’s Representative (a UMCP faculty member outside of the School of Music), and three other Committee members. The Committee Chair, the Dean’s Representative, and at least one other Committee member must be “Full Members” of the Graduate School Faculty. (All full-time tenure-track faculty qualify; generally, other faculty do not.)

2. Normally, the faculty member who directs the dissertation research chairs the Committee; if that person is not a Full Member of the Graduate School faculty, the student finds a Full Member who agrees to serve as Committee Chair, and the research director becomes one of the three other Committee members.

3. If a prospective member of the Committee is not a Member of the Graduate School Faculty, the Dissertation Committee Chair submits an application for appointment of that person as an Adjunct or Special Member of the Graduate School Faculty. The application form, with a rationale for the prospective member’s pertinence to the project and a copy of his/her curriculum vitae, is submitted to the School of Music Director of Graduate Studies, who presents the prospective member’s credentials to the School of Music graduate faculty for a vote. Upon approval of a majority of the music faculty, the Director of Graduate Studies forwards the request to the Graduate School for final approval.

4. Once Committee membership is settled, the student submits a form with the list of nominees for the Doctoral Dissertation Committee, signed by the Advisor, to the Director of Graduate Studies in Music who forwards the request to the Graduate School. The Committee, once approved, then follows the policies and procedures described in the University of Maryland Graduate Handbook (see http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/publications/).

5. Some programs have additional requirements for the formation of the Dissertation Committee; see specific program information in Chapters VII and VIII for further details.
DISSERTATION PROSPECTUS

The first step in the dissertation process is the writing of the Dissertation Prospectus.

1. A student, in consultation with the Dissertation Committee Chair, prepares a Dissertation Prospectus, which should include a detailed outline of the final project. In the case of a written dissertation, it should contain a definition of the problem, necessary background, sources, methodology, expected conclusions with possible interpretations, contribution to the field, and bibliography. A performance dissertation Prospectus should include a list of and rationale for proposed repertoire for the recitals and/or other performances, background sources, selected bibliography of texts and scores, and any other relevant information. A composition dissertation Prospectus should include a detailed description of the proposed project. A written dissertation Prospectus is normally 5–10 double-spaced pages in length; a performance or composition dissertation Prospectus is usually shorter.

2. All members of the Committee should be consulted during the preparation of the Prospectus, and all must sign it.

3. After approval, the Prospectus is deposited in the Student Services Office. The Dissertation Chair and all members of the Committee must approve any subsequent changes to the Prospectus and a revised Prospectus must be deposited in the Student Services Office.

DISSERTATION

A dissertation is required for all doctoral degrees. A minimum of 12 credits in Dissertation Research (MUSC 899 or MUSP 899) must be earned.

Ph.D. Dissertation

Candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy in Music degree will submit a written dissertation, demonstrating the candidate’s ability to conduct original and independent scholarly research, write in a clear and concise manner, and follow a recognized scholarly style manual. The dissertation is usually 300 or more double-spaced pages in length. The instructions for the preparation and submission of the written dissertation are found in the Thesis and Dissertation Manual available online at <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/publications/>.

D.M.A. Dissertation Options

For D.M.A. in Composition dissertation requirements, see that program’s description in Chapter VII.

There are two dissertation options for a D.M.A. in Performance degree candidate.

1. Performance Dissertation Option

   In this option, the student proposes a three-event performance project (recitals, concerts, opera roles, or other appropriate programs) that explores a particular theme. This cohesive group of three events is in addition to the two recitals (MUSP 815, 816) presented as part of the pre-Candidacy coursework, and is taken under the course MUSP 899 Doctoral Dissertation Research, after Admission to Candidacy. (Note: all MUSP courses carry a performance fee.) It is expected that all Dissertation Committee members will attend all three dissertation recitals or other events, which should be scheduled in consultation with Committee members. All recitals or other events must be on campus, or near enough so as not to pose an inconvenience for Committee members in fulfilling their obligation to attend. The student is responsible for seeing that the recitals or other events are professionally recorded. CD (or other appropriate medium) recordings of these events must be deposited in the Graduate School as a permanent record of the dissertation project. The student’s Dissertation Committee will decide whether the live-performance CDs may stand without editing or should be amended with re-recorded material. The Dissertation Committee Chair must approve the final recording. Due to copyright restrictions, performance dissertations are ineligible for digital submission. These documents should be submitted to the Office of the Registrar on CD.
2. Written Dissertation Option
   This option consists of a combination of one dissertation recital or lecture-recital (taken under MUSP 899 and requiring a performance fee) and a written dissertation (taken under MUSC 899; no performance fee). The recital is in addition to the two recitals (MUSP 815, 816) presented as part of the pre-Candidacy coursework. The student is encouraged to relate the dissertation recital repertoire to the topic of the written dissertation. Requirements for the written dissertation are generally the same as for the Ph.D. dissertation; see above.

Some D.M.A. programs have additional requirements or modifications to these requirements; see Chapter VII for details.

DISSERTATION DEFENSE

An oral final examination in defense of the doctoral dissertation is required upon completion of the project. The examination is administered by the student’s Dissertation Committee, all members of which must be present. The defense is scheduled within the Fall or Spring semester. A student must be registered in the semester of the defense. Procedures for the defense are described in detail in the University Graduate Handbook and Graduate Catalog; both are available online at <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/publications/>.

The report of the Dissertation Committee, signed by each member, is submitted to the Graduate School following the examination. Two or more negative votes constitute the failure of the candidate to meet the dissertation requirement. A second defense is permitted; if it is failed, the candidate’s admitted status is terminated.

SUBMISSION OF THE DISSERTATION TO THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Please consult the Graduate School Thesis and Dissertation website, <http://www.gradschool.umd.edu/etd/>, for detailed instructions on preparing the manuscript of your dissertation and submitting the final approved version to the Graduate school. Written dissertations are submitted electronically.

D.M.A. students who have selected the Performance Dissertation Option should submit in person to the Graduate School by the appropriate deadline two copies of their CDs plus the following materials in paper format: Title Page, Abstract page, and Table of Contents. At this time, performance dissertations will not be included in the ProQuest database. Submission by mail or in person should be to:

(rev. 11/11/09)
By definition, the word “doctor” means “teacher,” related to the Latin adjective “doctus -a -um,” one who has been taught or has become learned. As you approach the end of your doctoral studies, you should be well acquainted with the works of music on the following list. One day of the day-long test that leads to candidacy for the doctorate, the Preliminary Examination, will consist of pages drawn from twelve of these works. In order to analyze the music on these pages and put it into its historical context, it will be necessary for you to be able to recognize at least the characteristics of its style, if not the piece itself. Academic coursework will greatly help you to gain a sense of why these works are iconic and how they figure in the theory and history of music. This, however, also will require much listening and study on your part, quite separate from your work in lessons, rehearsals, or the classroom. Your teachers and professors do know this repertory; you should, too.

Where a large number of works in a genre are listed (e.g., the Haydn string quartet list), you should select several that are particularly iconic and study those in detail. This will help you to recognize and discuss the composer’s style even in a work you haven’t studied. You’ll notice that the composers’ dates are not provided; one of your early self-study assignments should be to look them up and add them after the composers’ names.

Advancement to Candidacy is required before commencing the dissertation, which consists of a major written musical composition representing a significant advancement of the candidate’s career as a composer. This composition will be the culminating musical project of a doctoral music composition student and will be a work of major proportions, such as a one-act opera, a large orchestral composition, a multi-movement chamber music composition, a song cycle, or a large multi-media work. The work shall be performed in public if possible and practical. Two copies of the final version of the full score will be deposited with the Graduate School. After the completion of the dissertation there is a formal defense before the committee approved by the Graduate School.

FIRST-YEAR D.M.A. PIANO MAJORS
First-year D.M.A. piano performance majors must enroll in MUSP 719 (lessons) and cannot perform a recital except when written approval is given by three members of the piano faculty. It is expected that first year DMA students learn as much repertoire as possible during the first year. All graduate students must memorize repertoire before bringing it to lessons.

SECOND-YEAR D.M.A. PIANO MAJORS
Second-year D.M.A. piano performance majors may enroll in MUSP 815 (recital) and play the first recital during the first semester. A hearing must be scheduled two weeks before the recital. Students who fail the pre-recital hearing more than twice will be eliminated from the program. A student may register for MUSP 816 (recital) or 719 (lessons) during the second semester of the second year. The second recital may be performed at the end of the third semester or at the beginning of the fourth. Both the MUSP 815 and 816 recitals require a pre-recital hearing prior to the public performance. This hearing must be attended by three piano faculty who must approve the recital. The studio teacher will attend and grade the recital.

LIMIT ON STUDIO INSTRUCTION
D.M.A. piano students can receive no more than seven semesters of studio instruction towards the degree.

DISSERTATION COMMITTEE
The student must select a Dissertation Committee meeting the School of Music requirements as set forth in Chapter VI of this Handbook. Additionally, the Committee must include three piano faculty members, and one must chair the Committee (unless special permission from the piano faculty has been obtained to allow a non-piano faculty to chair the Committee). The Dissertation Committee must meet with the student after each dissertation recital, discuss the recital, and approve or not approve it.

DISSERTATION OPTIONS
There are two dissertation options for D.M.A. in Performance – Piano Solo: the Performance Dissertation Option and the Written Dissertation Option. Within the Performance Dissertation Option a student may choose a Recording Project variation.

Performance Dissertation Option
In addition to the requirements for this option stated in Chapter VI, Piano Solo students have the following requirements and options.

• Students will perform three MUSP 899 recitals connected by a central theme or topic. One recital may be a chamber music recital or a concerto recital and the remaining two recitals must be solo recitals. The concerto must be selected from the more difficult concerto repertoire (a Haydn concerto, for example, would not be acceptable). A student may perform one concerto or two short concertos, the duration of the total program to be not shorter than forty-five minutes of playing time. The concerto may be accompanied by a second piano or by an orchestra. Only a performance with orchestra may be scheduled off campus and must be approved and attended by the student’s Dissertation Committee.

• Recording Project—this is a variation of the Performance Dissertation Option and students choosing this project must adhere to the above requirements where applicable (including registering for MUSP 899, which carries a performance fee, not MUSC 899). Students choosing to perform a Recording Project must prepare 120 minutes of repertoire for the recording. Both the recording and the written document must be prepared in a format acceptable to the Graduate School. Detailed guidelines for the Recording Project are available from the Piano Division Chair or the Student Services Office.
Written Dissertation Option
For this option, students must still perform one recital or lecture-recital in addition to the written dissertation. While they are preparing for this recital they may register for private lessons under MUSP 899 for no more than one year. This recital may be a lecture-recital if the music is related to the written dissertation topic. For further information regarding this option, see Chapter VI.

FIRST-YEAR D.M.A. COLLABORATIVE PIANO MAJORS
First-year students must enroll in MUSP 719 and are encouraged to spend their first year learning as much repertoire as possible. A recital may be performed in the first year with approval of the Collaborative Piano faculty and Advisor.

SECOND-YEAR D.M.A. COLLABORATIVE PIANO MAJORS
During the second year, the student may enroll in MUSP 815 and play their first recital during the first semester. The next semester, the student may then enroll in either MUSP 719 or 816 depending on whether they are playing a recital in that semester. (The second recital should be performed before the end of the fourth semester in any event).

DISSERTATION COMMITTEE
The Dissertation Committee must include two members of the piano/collaborative piano faculty, one of whom must chair the Committee.

DISSERTATION OPTIONS
There are two dissertation options for a D.M.A. in Performance. For the Performance Dissertation Option, in addition to the requirements stated in Chapter VI, Collaborative Piano D.M.A. students have the following requirements:

Students will perform three recitals connected by a central theme or topic. The programs may consist of any combination of solo, vocal or chamber music works falling under the umbrella of the dissertation topic and must meet the approval of the Dissertation Committee. Two of these recitals will have comprehensive program notes (including all song texts and translations). The third recital will be presented in a lecture-demonstration style wherein 50–60 minutes of music will be presented, the student introducing each work or group of works with comments incorporating the information included in the program notes for that recital. The purpose of the third recital is to introduce the student to one of the newer forms of concert presentation, which is fast becoming a paradigm.

ORCHESTRA REQUIREMENT

All String DMA students are required to participate in orchestra for each of the first four semesters in which they receive applied instruction in their major performance area. The Orchestral Participation Certificate form, signed by the Director of Orchestral Programs and the String Division Chair, must be filed in the Student Services office in the final semester of study.

LIMIT ON STUDIO INSTRUCTION

D.M.A. string students can receive no more than seven semesters of studio instruction towards the degree.

JURY EXAMINATIONS

Students taking performance courses MUSP 719, 815 and 816 must perform a 10 minute jury at the end of each semester in which a degree recital is not presented. Students taking MUSP 899 are not required to perform juries.

STRING DIVISION NOON RECITAL REQUIREMENT

String doctoral students registered for MUSP 719, 815 or 816 are required to attend the String Division Noon Recitals held on Tuesdays from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. Normally, eight Noon Recitals take place each semester, of which students are required to attend a minimum of six. Attending fewer than the minimum results in the MUSP grade being lowered one third of a letter for each recital missed. When schedule conflicts prevent a student from meeting these requirements, he/she can arrange with the divisional Noon Recital Coordinator to attend substitute events.

Students are encouraged to perform both solo and chamber music repertoire on Noon Recitals each semester. The Noon Recital event schedule is posted on the String Division bulletin board, located between room 3115 and 3117, Clarice Smith Center. If a student wishes to schedule a performance, he/she must submit a properly completed form, signed by his/her teacher, to the divisional Noon Recital Coordinator. The String Division bulletin board has folders for dispensing blank forms and receiving completed forms.

STRING DIVISION DMA DEGREE RECITAL POLICIES

I. Preliminaries

A. The recital program must be submitted to the Chair of the String Division for approval at least two months before the recital date. For the first 899 recital, a single hard copy of the prospectus showing signatures of all five committee members must be submitted to the Chair of the String Division at least two months before the recital date.

B. Normal length for a full recital program is 60 to 65 minutes of music. A proposed program may be rejected because of inappropriate length.

C. The recital must be scheduled at a time when the student’s teacher is able to attend.

D. The student must arrange to have the recital recorded by an approved CSPAC recording technician.

E. Students registered for MUSP 815, or 816 must procure the agreement of one other faculty member to attend the recital. This faculty member, plus the student’s teacher, together comprise the student’s Recital Committee.

F. Students studying at the 899 level must make a good faith effort to set the dates for the Dissertation Recitals in such a way that the entire Dissertation Committee can attend.

II. The Recital Hearing

A. For students registered for MUSP 815 or 816, the Division Chair will schedule a Recital Hearing for no later than two weeks before the proposed recital date.
B. At least two String Division faculty members must be present including the candidate’s private teacher (adjunct teachers’ schedules permitting).
C. At the Recital Hearing, the student must be prepared to perform the entire recital. The committee will select for presentation approximately 15 minutes of excerpts from the full program.
D. Recital hearings for 899 students will be in the form of a public performance on the String Division Noon Recital. Selections for the hearing will be made by the string faculty and communicated to the student 24 hours before the Noon Recital performance.
E. Passage of the Recital Hearing requires a unanimous vote of the committee.

III. The Recital Grade

Immediately after an 815 or 816 recital, each Recital Committee member will grade the recital, using the standard University of Maryland A–F grading system. The grade for the recital, which is also the grade for the semester, will be the weighted average of the two grades, with the teacher’s grade counting for 60%, and the other Recital Committee member’s grade counting for 40%. The other Recital Committee member will also fill out a Semester Performance Evaluation form to be placed in the student’s file.

PROSPECTUS FOR DISSERTATION RECITALS

The Prospectus, normally 1 to 2 pages in length, includes the three proposed recital programs, an explanation of the purpose of the project, and an explanation of how the proposed repertoire relates to that purpose. The student must obtain signatures from all five dissertation committee members on a single hard copy of the prospectus at least two months in advance of the first dissertation recital. The student must then provide photocopies of the signed copy to each of the committee members, to the Division Chair, and to the Office of Student Services.

PERFORMANCE DISSERTATION OPTION

String students opting for the Performance Dissertation Option are subject to the policies and procedures regarding dissertations as detailed in Chapter VI, plus the following:

The Dissertation Committee should, within two weeks after the performance of each dissertation recital, approve the recital as meeting a minimum standard for inclusion in the dissertation series. The Chair of the Dissertation Committee is responsible for collecting this approval in writing. In cases of disagreement, a negative vote from two or more of the five Committee members constitutes a failure.

CHAPTER VIII: DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY (PH.D.)
CURRICULA AND REQUIREMENTS

PH.D. IN CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

The Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction emphasizes musicianship, research, and advanced instructional methods. Doctoral students must possess successful teaching experience and show evidence of musicianship.

The Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction is administered by the College of Education’s Department of Curriculum & Instruction. For further information, please contact the above department and the School of Music’s Music Education Division.

PH.D. IN ETHNOMUSICOCOLOGY

(Please also refer to Chapters II & VI for general policies regarding all doctoral degrees.)

The doctoral program provides advanced training in the theories and methods of ethnomusicology, including the documentation and analysis of living traditions, and is intended for students conducting research in any culture area. Specialized coursework for the Ph.D. includes transcription and analysis, an advanced fieldwork seminar, and a variety of ethnomusicology seminars on specialized topics such as historical ethnomusicology, music and film in cross-cultural perspectives, and studies of specific music cultures or genres.

Admission Standards

- Completion of an M.A. in Ethnomusicology or cognate field with a 3.5 GPA is required.
- The minimum GPA for the undergraduate work is 3.0.

Requirements (in addition to Required Program of Study specified below)

- Two languages other than the student’s native language (typically one language for scholarly reading and one for fieldwork) are required. The languages required will be determined by the student and their Advisor with reference to the student’s research topics. For each research language, students must take four semesters at the college level or demonstrate their proficiency by passing an examination. Except in special circumstances, Preliminary Examinations may not be taken until this requirement has been satisfied.
- All students must be involved in one of the School of Music's "world music ensembles" or in an equivalent performance activity, selected in consultation with the Advisor, for six semesters. During their period of study, students will be expected to study at least three different ensemble types.

If the student did not earn an M.A. in Ethnomusico at the University of Maryland, they may be required to begin with the University of Maryland’s M.A. Program in Ethnomusicology or take specific M.A. courses, as determined by their Advisor, in addition to the Ph.D. requirements. An evaluation of the student’s transcript and experience will determine which courses must be taken.

CANDIDACY PROCEDURE for Ph.D. in Ethnomusicology

Candidacy involves the following steps:

1. Satisfactory completion of all coursework
2. Certification of competency in two languages other than the student’s native language
3. Completion of Preliminary Examinations. The Examination consists of four parts: 1) in the General Examination, students must demonstrate a sophisticated knowledge of the field commensurate with the expectations for teaching and supervising at the university level; 2) for the Primary Area, the student will demonstrate familiarity with the literature and issues within a broad geographical area and theoretical framework, sufficient for conducting extensive individual research resulting in a Ph.D. dissertation which is a significant original scholarly contribution to the field; 3) for the Secondary Area, the student must demonstrate a level of knowledge commensurate with teaching a course or seminar on the topic and area; 4) In the Aural Examination, the student will demonstrate a broad familiarity with musical genres, instruments, and styles from major culture areas, along with skills in transcription and analysis suitable for in-depth discussion of any musical style. For the primary and secondary areas, essays and annotated bibliographies and mediaographies must be submitted to the examination committee one month prior to the first examination date.
4. Admission to Candidacy
5. Selection of the Dissertation Committee, including a Chair responsible for supervising the Dissertation. The Dissertation Committee must include at least five members. Three (including the Committee Chair or one of the Co-Chairs) must be from the Division of Musicology and Ethnomusicology. The fourth member must be from outside the School of Music and will serve as the Dean’s Representative at the Final Oral Examination (Dissertation Defense). The fifth member may also be from outside the School of Music and should represent the concentration area, a geographical region, or a specific theoretical perspective. (See also Chapter VI for Dissertation Prospectus guidelines.)

6. Submission of a written Dissertation Prospectus, oral presentation of the Prospectus to the Dissertation Committee for discussion, and approval of the Prospectus by the Dissertation Committee. (See also Chapter VI for Dissertation Prospectus guidelines.)

7. The ethnomusicology program's benchmark for completing the Ph.D. is eight years. Students who do not complete their degree within this time period--or who fail to demonstrate satisfactory progress toward completing their coursework and passing their language requirement, Preliminary Examinations, and Dissertation Prospectus Defense--will be dismissed from the program. In addition, students who do not complete their degree within four years of advancing to candidacy will normally be required to retake the Ph.D. Preliminary Examination to demonstrate that their knowledge is consistent with the current standards of the graduate program and the current state of the field.

FINAL ORAL EXAMINATION (Dissertation Defense) for Ph.D. in Ethnomusicology

A complete draft of the Dissertation must be presented to the Chair of the Committee, who approves it for distribution to the rest of the Committee. The Dissertation must follow the guidelines specified by the Graduate School. The oral defense of the dissertation should preferably be scheduled at least six weeks before the date of graduation. Students must be enrolled for dissertation credit (MUSC 899) during the semester of the defense.

PH.D. IN MUSICOLOGY

(Please also refer to Chapters II & VI for general policies regarding all doctoral degrees.)

The curriculum in Musicology emphasizes the art of music as a historical phenomenon and the scholarly methods of the cultural historian. During the first academic year in the program, the student normally takes seminars that apply the methods of the discipline to the music of the traditionally defined style periods in Western culture. Later, students may choose from a broad range of graduate courses on narrower research areas in musicology, such as individual composers and genres, early music notation, or performance practices, or in the neighboring disciplines of Ethnomusicology and Music Theory and Analysis.

A Musicology student is required to take at least one course in Ethnomusicology.

The coursework usually totals 42 credits beyond the master’s level and must include:

- MUSC 642 (Early Music Notation)
- MUSC 648 (Seminar in Music Research)
- At least one course in Ethnomusicology, such as MUET 675 or one of the seminars in the MUET 679 series, or the equivalents of these courses (MUSC 642, 648, and MUET course) if they were taken at another institution.
- 12 credits of MUSC 899 Doctoral Dissertation Preparation

With the approval of the Advisor, the student may take alternative courses to the MUSC 642, 648, or MUET course requirements above, if equivalent courses were taken at another institution. The student’s Advisor may also approve as credit towards the degree one or more courses outside the discipline of Musicology, or Music if such courses are deemed relevant to the successful completion of the student’s dissertation project.

Prior to beginning work on the dissertation, the candidate must also demonstrate a good reading knowledge of at least two foreign languages, generally French and German, by passing two foreign language examinations to be given at times jointly determined by the candidate and his/her advisor. It is preferable to complete the language requirements by the beginning of the second year of study in the degree program.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Musicology, upon completion of their course work, must demonstrate a comprehensive knowledge of the European and American musical heritage and repertory by passing a Preliminary Examination prior to beginning the writing of their doctoral dissertations.

After successfully completing the coursework, the language requirement, and the Preliminary Examination, the candidate must present a dissertation prospectus, which must be successfully defended in the presence of the dissertation Advisor and at least two other committee members. Once these requirements are met, the student is formally admitted to Candidacy.

The completed dissertation constitutes a meaningful and original contribution to the musicological literature. Students are encouraged to present the completed dissertation to their Advisor at least one semester before the proposed date of defense.

(Please also refer to Chapters II & VI for general policies regarding all doctoral degrees.)

The Ph.D. in Music Theory requires a minimum of 70 credit hours beyond the Bachelor’s degree (40 beyond the MA). The goals of the curriculum for the Ph.D. in Music Theory are threefold: the refinement of the student’s skills in scholarly research and writing; the development of the student’s analytical skills for music over a broad historical period; the development of the student’s knowledge of issues, materials, and methods in music theory pedagogy.
